OSYNER LAY Sept. 8. Successful reports that in attempt had been made to shoot President Roosevelt apparently have their origin in the fact that the hunting season has opened on Long Island and there is considerable shooting daily in the outlying districts. Close investigation fails to show that there has been any overt act directed against the President. It is the custom to ride every day covering known routes in the country side and it is not unusual for him to encounter parties of hunters. Also there is a shooting club which engages in target practice not far from Sagamore Hill.

He Will Have to Face a Trial for Burglary on Charges Pre- ferred Against Him in San Francisco.

Mrs. Donohue's Death Caused by Unknown Persons, Says the Coroner's Jury—Donohue They Declared a Suicide.

Gutave Ahlstedt, alias Arkell, was this afternoon locked up in the city prison in San Francisco. He will be formally charged with burglary. He was taken across the bay by Detective J. A. Fitzgerald.

The Oakland police this morning decided to turn Gustave Ahlstedt, alias Aikell, over to the San Francisco police to answer to the charge of burglary preferred by Mrs. Elizabeth Laumeister of that city. Mrs. Laumeister accused the man of having broken into her home in San Francisco and stolen a deed to some property. Ahlstedt was taken into custody immediately after the body of Mrs. Alice Donohue was taken from its muddy grave in Emeryville. The circumstances immediately began to point very strongly and menacingly at him.

The course of the police serves to keep the man in custody until the can be in some degree cleared up—if such a result is within the range of human possibility. The case, based on legal and tangible evidence, is admittedly rather weak. Habemus corpus proceedings would have taken the man out of jail, but the transfer to San Francisco on a definite charge forestalls any such move on the part of the suspected man's attorneys. It enables the police to keep the prisoners in their grasp and power until all the multitudinous clues in the case can be run down.

CORONER'S VERDICT.

Following verdict of the jury, do find that the name of the deceased was Alice Lucretia Donahoe, also known as Alice Stonebraker, also Alice Berry, a native of Pennsylvania, age about 41 years, and that she came to her death some time between the tenth and thirteenth days of July 30, 1908; and said body was found under the building known as the Western Furniture Company at Emeryville, Alameda county, California; and we further find that death was caused by some form of violence or poison, the precise character of which was not advanced to the jury; and that the body and that such violence was inflicted or poison administered upon her by a person or persons unknown to the jury. The names of the jurors who signed the verdict of the jury are, E. B. O'Connell, E. J. O'Connell, A. B. O'Connell, and E. J. H. O'Connell.

PUBLIC OPINION IS UNITED IN FAVOR OF THE BANKERS' HOTEL

BUILD THE NEW HOTEL, SAYS ALAMEDA ARGUS

Failure Can Only Result From Narrow Mindness, Weakness and Lack of Foresight.

(The Alameda Argus published the following editorial September 7.)

From the prominence which is given the subject in THE TRIBUNE, Oakland's Bankers' Hotel project seems to be in danger of dying a premature death. To the disinterested outsider such an end to such an enterprise is incredible. Started under what appeared to be the most favorable auspices, at an opportune time and under the most promising circumstances and prospects, the undertaking has come to a dead halt, because its promoters have been suddenly seized with heart failure and lost courage. And yet these very men have built up the big institutions which they control on the strength of Oakland's growth and prosperity and have reaped a proportionately larger gain from the developments of the past two and one-half years in the city than anyone else in it. If they have experienced any set-back during that period, it has been due to an inordinate greed for gain which induced them to send anywhere from $6,000,000 to $9,000,000 of the money of their depositors to New York prior to the Wall street panic of October last year for the sake of the 9 per cent—possibly higher—interest which was offered to them for the purpose of using it in a whirlpool of speculation. The fact that such an enormous rate was offered to them, on fluctuating collateral, ought to have caused them to pause long enough to persuade them to follow the safe course which prudence plainly pointed out.

BLUSH FOR FAILURE.

However that may be, they pledged their faith and honor to the hotel enterprise, and on the strength of both induced citizens having money to invest to join them in the enterprise to the extent of nearly $500,000, the major part, if not the whole of which has been spent. And now they are reputed to be hesitating about completing the enterprise! Was there ever such an illustration of weakness and folly? It ought to make every citizen of Oakland, which has had an opportunity whose equal was never before presented to it to develop on the lines nature shame at the timidity and weakened faith the situation, as represented, displays! No other community in the world would have abused its opportunities for self-development as Oakland has done. Its failure to properly utilize them has not been due to lack of enterprise in its merchants and general citizenship and small property owners; but to the narrow-mindedness and contracted vision of large moneyed men—its bankers and wealthy capitalists. Their lack of foresight has shortened their perspective of the future.

THE EXAMPLE OF RALSTON.

Has it ever occurred to the promoters of the Bankers' Hotel in Oakland that the foundations of the old Palace Hotel, which cost its builder, W. C. Ralston, approximately $7,000,000 were laid when San Francisco had a population of less than 140,000? There were slurrans in those days, as there are in the present time, who said the Palace never would be filled with guests; that the enterprise would be a dead failure; that Ralston was mad and visionary. But Ralston was a banker of big heart, keen foresight and large enterprise. He turned a deaf ear to croakers and went ahead, inspired by the big faith within him and a just comprehension of San Francisco's future. If he had kept out of speculative mining ventures, which wrecked his fortune and brought his life to a sad and sudden termination, he would probably have lived to reap the fruition of his faith. As it was, his reputed silent partner William Sharon, who took all the Ralston properties over in the settlement of the affairs of the Bank of California, reaped the harvest. Ralston did not anticipate that the big hotel he was erecting would pay a profit at the start, but he clearly foresaw what would be the ultimate outcome. Time vindicated his judgment.

FAITH CALLS FOR WORKS.

"Oh, ye of small faith!" is applicable evidently to the banker promoters of the proposed big hotel in Oakland, whose ideas, like some of the richer property-owners on that city's principal business streets, does not ascend much above the first, second or third story of a building where an eight or twelve-story should be towering its head to the sky. The depressing effect of the lack of enterprise and faith displayed by this class is not confined to that city. It affects all the cities on the eastern shore of the bay. Alameda is sure to suffer from it, as well as Berkeley, because it advertises to the world that we are faint-hearted and non-progressive. What is wanted in Oakland is a few first-class hotels and the injection into the community of the blood which stirred Los Angeles into activity and made a great and prosperous and attractive city out of an obscure and lifeless semi-Mexican pueblo of a few thousand indolent and unenterprising citizens.

John De Lancey

JOHN DE LANCEY, attorney at law, Union Savings Bank Building—Oakland has grown the long period of accidental improvements and accidental progress. It is time that these things come about by energy, business activity and a genuine confidence in the future and present greatness of our city. There is a sort of conservatism which produces dry rot and decay. We have no room for it here. Industrially, financially and socially Oakland ranks high among the cities of the Pacific Coast. She is fundamentally as sound as the city of New York. With a foundation of enduring greatness to build on there is no chance being taken in the erection of the Bankers' hotel. Until the three transcontinental railroads are taken away, until the water front dries up and until the valleys of Alameda county cease to bear their rich harvest Oakland will remain one of the queen cities of the world and what better crown should there be than that of a magnificent hotel which would be the resort of the millionaires, the cultured and the learned? There is nothing which brings such great reward as confidence. Every successful project is born in it. That is all that is needed to make Oakland. That is what the bankers need. Hotels are an index to a city's greatness and Oakland should show the world that it is really and truly a big city, by at once building a hotel in keeping with Oakland's wealth and geographical position.

Ross Morgan

ROSS MORGAN, civil engineer, 54 Eleventh street—Two years from today the Bankers' Hotel should stand forth as a reality. It should be filled with happy guests drinking in our glorious climate. The guests would be the best advertisers this city ever had. Even the intention that the hotel project might be abandoned is enough to make the entire city sit up and take notice. To abandon the hotel would be to slip back into antediluvian slumber again from which there would not be an awakening unless there be a second disaster to our sister city. At this time, when building material is cheap and where there is need of work by mechanics and laborers, the bankers could not do a better thing than go ahead. It would be an inspiring spectacle of confidence, the moral lesson of which would not be lost. It would encourage others. If the hotel be not built, the depressing effect will be correspondingly great.

Arthur J. Burton

ARTHUR J. BURTON, manager of the Western Agency Company—If the Bankers' Hotel had been built twenty years ago we would have had a dozen of them by now. That is one of the strongest reasons why the hotel should be built. We cannot afford to waste any more time and let one opportunity after another escape out of the window. The very fact that we have promised to build the hotel seems to me to be binding. Any failure to carry out our promise will certainly retard the city's growth and bring a merited discredit on our community. The construction of the Bankers' Hotel would encourage other construction work and would have much to do with relieving Oakland of its temporary depression. In three years the backers of the hotel will be glad that they went ahead.

Thomas Hansen

THOMAS HANSEN, 520 Oakland avenue—The Garden of Eden could not boast of a better climate than Oakland possesses, and to make that climate known to all the world it is necessary to have hotels. The Bankers' Hotel should not only be built, but should be followed by others until the name and fame of Oakland are spread over the entire world as a summer and winter resort. Aside from climatic reasons there are grave ones why the Bankers' Hotel should be built at once. Unless it is, we will not even be able to accommodate the population that comes from natural growth. If we encourage tourists and travelers to come here we must give them some inducement in the way of superior accommodations. Under no condition, in my opinion, should the work be abandoned.

Joseph Rosenberg

JOSEPH ROSENBERG, Berkeley Rock Company—Lethargy in carrying out the construction of the Bankers' Hotel can only result in unwarranted injury to Oakland. The time to build is now. In less than a year, in addition to the two great railroads that are now tributary to Oakland, we will have a third, which will help swell the tide of population coming this way. Unless we are prepared to meet our guests as they should be, we cannot hope to hold them. The project is not at all too large to be undertaken. In fact, there is room for many hotels here as in Los Angeles. Having a climate that is incomparably better, our hotels should reflect this condition. As it is now we are not in a position to show anyone our climate. We cannot house them. Tourists must go elsewhere for accommodation, and, as a result, Oakland's greatest natural resource—her climate—is lost. It would be silly to abandon the Bankers' Hotel, and I think there is too much sound business sense in the community to do so.

Otto Lange

OTTO LANGE, real estate—It has been the history of things that out of necessity large institutions grow. If there is not a necessity at the present time for a Bankers' Hotel there never will be. Only shortsightedness can prevent the hotel from being erected. The honor and credit of not only the bankers but of the city itself is at stake, and every means should be used to foster the project and bolster up the faith of the fearful bankers providing they do contemplate the abandonment of the building of the hotel. The facts in the case point so imperatively to the immediate construction of the hotel that it is scarcely believable that any other course would ever be thought of. No matter how fair the city, it is a failure unless it has a hotel in keeping with its greatness.

Henry Hansen

HENRY HANSEN, merchant, 400 San Pablo avenue—Faint-heartedness on the part of the bankers at the present time in going ahead with the projected Bankers' Hotel is injuring Oakland and the complete failure to construct the establishment would forever brand Oakland as the original village. It seemed for a while that Oakland had outgrown mossback ideas and slurrans tastes, but should the hotel project be abandoned the reputation once enjoyed by the city will come back with a rush. Our timorous bankers should pluck up courage and show the world that there is as much activity and enthusiasm here as in any other part of the world. The bankers should show the world that they cannot only make promises, but fulfill them. That is the way to get the right sort of a reputation. One improvement will bring another. The two will bring a third, and so on. Let us have the Bankers' Hotel at once.

John White

JOHN WHITE, contractor, 1412 Castro street—It is a bad thing to make a promise and then fail to stick to it. The word of a community is just as sacred as that of an individual, and to avoid the odium that would attach to failure to construct the Bankers' hotel it would seem advisable for the bankers to get busy. Public opinion is behind the project so solidly that there does not seem to be any reason for not going ahead. If Oakland's population of more than 200,000 in its suburbs of more than 100,000 cannot support one such hotel it would be better for the three transcontinental railroads whose terminals are here to move out to Point Richmond. To abandon the project now would be so ridiculous and such a rare exhibition of cold feet that the bankers should be ashamed of themselves. The only way to grow as a city is to grow and not wait for earthquakes to interfere a little activity into the body politic.

Joseph Summers

JOSEPH SUMMERS, with Kahn Brothers—A dispatch to the papers the other day stated that there were more than 7000 towns in Mexico which had never been placed on the map. Unless the Bankers' Hotel is built, and quickly at that, Oakland may as well be placed in the same class as the 7000 Mexican towns. The stranger and traveler will not stop in Oakland when he can't get what he wants by taking the ferry. Oakland must be able to provide the traveler with what he desires or else cease laying claim to being a city of the first magnitude. As a matter of good faith the bankers should at once order the work to proceed and restore the confidence of the people both at home and abroad. Nothing more detrimental to the city itself could go forth than the intelligence that the bankers of Oakland were afraid of the town. The financiers of this city cannot afford to break their word, which is already pledged.

Walter B. Fawcett

WALTER B. FAWCETT, Secretary of the Board of Works—Anything in the building line is of great interest to me. The Bankers' Hotel, when constructed will prove a great thing for Oakland and will tend to attract outside capital. One big hotel will lead to another, the hotel men themselves admitting that big hotels are an impetus to business along all lines.

Charles Bock

CHARLES BOCK, Captain of Police—Let us have the Bankers' Hotel by all means. It will give an impetus to business which we would not be able to get any other way. Any move which will tend to attract outsiders is what the business men should advocate.

W. F. Woods

W. F. WOODS, Sergeant of Police—We have inquired every day from visitors from outside points as to hotel accommodations in this city. We should have a hotel such as was planned by the bankers in order that we could hold tourists who are looking for the best of accommodations. Such a hotel would be of great and lasting benefit to this city.

William H. Head

WM. H. HEAD, with Messmer, Smith & Co.—My sentiments in regard to the bankers' hotel project can be expressed in the statement "don't start anything you cannot finish." It is owing to the dignity of the city of Oakland that the project launched with so much display and blare of trumpets be carried out. It is too late for Oakland to renig and take her place again with the mapless towns of the Universe. It seems that what would most help Oakland has always fallen through. At the present time a hotel of the size of the Bankers' is needed almost above anything else. It is time that we put precedent aside and do something for Oakland. The bankers should be the first to take the initiative and show the outside world that the word of the financiers of this city is good.

E. C. Thurber

E. C. THURBER, painter and oils—Delay in the construction of the Bankers' Hotel will mean delay in the growth of Oakland. We are now in a position to accommodate our travelers and guests. The need of the Bankers' Hotel is so urgent that it is inconceivable that there should be any effort to abandon it, without it Oakland must remain under the title of San Francisco's bed chamber. As we are not we might as well let the world know of it. The immediate completion of the hotel will be a source of gratification to the entire city and a source of profit to its projectors.

Edward A. Bushell

EDWARD A. BUSHELL, Real Estate, 1263 Broadway—Build the hotel by all means; and no time is more propitious than the present to do it for many reasons. First and foremost of all is the great saving made by taking advantage of the low price of the material market. I am informed a saving in construction on such a building would be about twenty-five to thirty per cent. That alone should be a stimulant to action. Further, in the fact that prosperity throughout the country awaits us, visible to any intelligent mind; therefore, when our hotel is ready it will be none to soon for that actively awaiting us. When I was asked to contribute to the enterprise I thought it the utmost folly for conservative business men and financiers to choose such an inflated market as then, with material high and labor scarce; now the time is at hand when men want work and good mechanics are to be had, therefore I am willing for one to pay the balance on my stock to save us from being made a laughing stock of throughout the country. Further, I think it will be a paying proposition.

George F. Neece

GEORGE F. NEECE, artist and decorator—The whole community will feel chagrin and disappointment providing the Bankers' Hotel is not built. It is not a trivial matter to announce to the world that you are going to do a thing and then not do it. Our solemn pledge has been given to the world at large. Fair weather friends are bad and fair weather financiers are a detriment to a community. Now is the time to stick to it. The steel and masonry of the Bankers' Hotel should greet the eye within the next two months. The only way to make people believe things sometimes is to show them. That is what the bankers should do. Oakland is ready for the hotel and it is up to the bankers to do that which has already been promised.

D. J. Hall

D. J. HALL, real estate, 812 San Pablo avenue—If work were to commence tomorrow on the Bankers' Hotel it would be the most encouraging sign the city could possibly see. We need the hotel. All that would be necessary to fill it would be proper advertising, such as Los Angeles has given its hotels. The time to begin to advertise is now. Instead of doing this, the backers of the hotel are giving the entire community a black eye by failing to go ahead with the work. This is assuredly advertising of the worst kind. The longer the delay the worse it will be for Oakland. There is no use looking backward to what might have been. The hotel might have been erected by this time. But we should look forward to the bankers and others keeping the promise already made. Everyone would be a booster. There seems no good reason except cowardice for not going ahead with the work.

Dr. Charles Arnold

DR. CHARLES ARNOLD, physician—The peculiar advantages that Oakland enjoys from a climatic standpoint makes such a hotel as the Bankers' an absolute necessity. Oakland is not only healthy but it has the most equitable climate of any city in the United States. With such a foundation on which to build, projects by the dozens should be considered. Materially the city of Oakland is able to support such an institution. She has a climate which all the world should know of. While Oakland should not possibly pose particularly as a health resort, she can pose as having the finest climate of any city in the world for those who enjoy cool weather in summer time and even weather in winter time. It will be a distinct setback to Oakland if the Bankers' Hotel is not erected.

Geo. P. Frazer

GEORGE P. FRAZER, merchant, 921 Chestnut street—If the Bankers' Hotel is not to be completed it should never have been begun. That it is needed goes beyond question. We have a population of more than 200,000, and it is a permanent population. Many of the new residents were formerly citizens of San Francisco, but the climate of Oakland has weaned them from the city of their first choice. It will be the same way with the tourists arriving here. Once they come in contact with our climate they will be loath to leave it and glad to return. For this reason, if no other, the Bankers' Hotel will be a success, and it is foolhardy on the part of those behind the proposition to even think of abandoning the plan.

Alex. Hirschberg

ALEX. HIRSCHBERG, cigar merchant—There should not be any turning back on the part of the projectors of the Bankers' Hotel. There is nothing so depressing to a community as the lack of confidence on the part of those who handle the finances of the city. If they show signs of timidity it is not to be wondered at that the smaller fry should also be fearful of the future. The Bankers' Hotel would be an inspiring spectacle which would lead to the investment of many another dollar. The city is too large and the natural advantages are too great to permit of any faltering on the part of the projectors of the hotel. A little display of confidence and enthusiasm is all that is required. A hole in the ground where there ought to be a first-class hotel is a poor advertisement.

F. N. Anderson

F. N. ANDERSON, 405 Thirteenth street, carpets—I trust that the faint-hearted capitalists who are behind the Bankers' Hotel project will take up courage again as they read the sentiments of the people as voiced by THE TRIBUNE. I am glad to add the weight of my opinion to that which has preceded me in these columns. It is preposterous to think that Oakland should give a promise to the world and then fall down on it. Oakland will never get anywhere or be anything until her citizens really do something. The Bankers' Hotel was a project so fair that the people were encouraged to essay other improvements. If the hotel project be dead, then other improvements along the same line will be dead. We need the courage of our convictions. We cannot progress as long as fear and timidity grip the hearts of our moneyed people.

H. S. Robinson

H. S. ROBINSON, attorney-at-law—The promise that has been given the

BUILDING HOTEL SHOWS A FAITH IN FUTURE OAKLAND

Early Completion of Bankers' Hotel Means Much to This City and Surrounding Sections.

(By WILBUR WALKER, Secretary of the Oakland Merchants' Exchange.)

"The completion of the Bankers' Hotel at the earliest possible moment is a matter of great importance not only to Oakland but to the entire continental side of San Francisco Bay. No better demonstration of faith in future development could be shown at the present time, that prompt resumption of operations and prompt completion of the structure."

Details belong only to the stockholders, but the public generally have full faith that the names composing the roll of stockholders are a guarantee of good faith, and an assurance that the project will be carried out as outlined in the prospectus. world in regard to the erection of a first-class hotel should be kept. Otherwise Oakland will be placed in the class where unfulfilled promises are the standard. Once having started the project it is only the quitter who will not go ahead. One hotel will bring another, and that is what is needed. We want more hotels. The trade of one establishment will help another. Tourists will not be satisfied with half accommodations. They want first-class. A second-rate building cannot supply the guests with the proper accommodations. With three railroads pouring their travel into this city, it is a pity that the project of the Bankers' Hotel has been allowed to lie dormant for nearly two years. Quick action and energetic effort will overcome the inertia caused by the delay, but the work must be begun at once.

Hugh Aldrich

HUGH ALDRICH, attorney-at-law—The stockholders of the Bankers' Hotel, as well as the community at large, owe the outside public something in the matter of the erection of the hotel. For two years the work has not progressed and it is time that something was done. The unsightly hole at the proposed site of the hotel should be refilled if nothing else is done. It is a danger to life and limb. The only proper thing to do is to make good on the promise already given to the world. To further delay the construction of the hotel is to confess we are unable to do it. This confession in financial circles in the East will not do Oakland any too much good. We would establish a much better credit with the Bankers' Hotel built than we can without it.

FATHER RAMM MAY BE NAMED BY ARCHBISHOP FOR COADJUTOR

New Candidates for the Position to Be Filled by Rome

ROME, Sept. 8.—At the last meeting of the Congregation of the Propaganda for the settlement of American questions held yesterday, the discussion was almost entirely on the case of the coadjutorship of San Francisco. Finally the Congregation decided to ask Archbishop Riordan to propose new candidates proposed by the immovable factors and Archbishops in the United States. The appointment of Bishop Muldoon of Chicago to the post of Bishop of Rockford, Ill., was unanimously approved. NEW CANDIDATES FOR BISHOP. As soon as Archbishop Riordan receives the formal notification from Rome that Dr. Hanna cannot fill the position he will, under directions from Rome, call another meeting of the immovable factors of the diocese for the nomination of a candidate. The Archbishop will probably name the Rev. Charles A. Ramm, his assistant secretary, and assistant of St. Mary's Cathedral for the last fifteen years. Father Ramm was born in this State, is a convert to the faith, and was educated at the University of California. The other candidates who are prominently mentioned are the Rev. M. J. Connelly, rector of St. Paul's Church, who has taken several trips to Europe with the Archbishop, and who is credited with being one of the best read men in the city, and the Rev. Joseph P. McGuire, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, and who was chaplain of the First Regiment of the California Regiment in Manila and hero of the smallpox hospitals in the Philippines.

ENGAGEMENT NEWS IS PLEASANT SURPRISE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—A pleasant surprise today was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Mary Evelyn to Hugo Huddleston Owens, who was held at the Hotel de Ville in Paris. George Anson Herick, the son of the bridegroom, in honor of Miss Josephine Volkman, Miss Mary's fourth daughter of Captain and Mrs. J. E. Meyer and is extremely attractive and clever. She returned last year from Europe, having been at school a Dragoon for two years. She cares little for society and has a host of friends who are hustling to offer her the good wishes for her happiness. Hugo Owens, who is a Stanford graduate, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Owens and is in business with his father. He like his charming fiancée is very popular in society, but is very popular. The date is announced for the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. William Minter will give a delightful dance this evening at the residence on Pacific avenue to a young couple, who have had a brief but very social season, which will in all probability be the last of the season. The opening of the city schools and the departure of many charming girls and young men for Eastern schools. Miss Maurine Minter will leave this week for New York, where she will attend Miss Jones' fashionable school. Mrs. J. F. Montague and Mrs. Wakefield Baker will be dinner guests this evening and will entertain a number of their social friends, who will enjoy the company of the city schools and the departure of many charming girls and young men for Eastern schools. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hammond and Miss Julia Langhorne are at present in Paris and will leave in a few days for London to remain until September 13, when they will sail for America. Mrs. George Boyd left this morning on the Overland Limited, accompanied by her son, little, whom she will leave in an Eastern school. Mr. and Mrs. William H. Babcock arrived home Saturday from Europe, where they have been traveling extensively and will spend the winter in their beautiful country place in San Rafael. Mrs. George Herick gave a bridge party in her home in San Francisco last night. Mrs. J. E. Meyer and her daughter, Miss Mary, who will be a bride next week for Europe. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Meyer have been traveling on the continent during the last few months, and when last heard from they were sightseeing in Paris. Mr. and Mrs. John D. Spruce is and Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Hetherington have returned from Germany and are entertaining.

Cleve Baker Wins AT THE PRIMARIES

Cleve Baker, District Attorney of Tonopah, has just made a fight at the primary election and has won out over his opponents. He has enough delegates to nominate him for the office again on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Baker has been a successful practitioner in Tonopah, and has prosecuted a number of important cases. The salary of the office is $7500 a year.

ATTACKED FATHER; IS ACCUSED OF INSANITY

M. F. Lund, a 25-year-old rancher, living with his father in Mount Eden township, was taken to the insanity ward of the Receiving Hospital this morning on the complaint of his father, charged with insanity. Lund declares his son yesterday broke a shotgun into pieces and then attacked his father with the barrel of the weapon.

I found the work of solving the puzzle not only interesting, but instructive as well. Thanking you again, I am, yours very truly, MISS EMILY HARKER.

Hodge-Podge of Tunes Score
Hit—Other Good Numbers on Long Program.

Manuel Romain and Company, in their musical hodge-podge, deserve the tumultuous applause that greeted them at the close of their act at yesterday's matinee performance at the Bell Theater. Assisted by the clever comedians, the Foley Brothers, and the captivating Palmer sisters, the three-scene act of this bright musical company was the claimant for the honors.

The comical "Henie" and his companion "Steine" were a close second in yesterday's bill. The singing of the cobbler, Henie, was well received but the climax came when the curtain disclosed the snow-laden trees and landscape and the appearance of the duo on monstrous snowshoes upon which they very gracefully executed the steps of a difficult dance.

In the military playlet, "In the Fall of the Leaf," Hal Davis and company scores a pronounced success.

Cadieux is an artist supreme on the slack rope. The feats accomplished by this wizard of the air are usually classed in the category of the impossible.

Tom Gillen, the Irish anecdotes and songs was the laughing hit of the day, and responded to numerous recalls with more of the "Pinnegan" stories. He is particularly at home with the folks and witticisms of the native Irish.

Miss Louise Auber was heard in several new songs that were well received.

Entertain in Hotel St. Mark With Music and Speeches

The Ladies' Auxiliary No. 12, of Branch 75 National Association of Letter Carriers, tendered a banquet to visiting members and women delegates to the letter carriers' convention last night in the Hotel St. Mark. About fifty were present.

Mrs. Ida Miller, president of the auxiliary, acted as toastmistress and made the address of welcome.

Mrs. J. H. Frazier of San Francisco delivered the response.

LADIES WHO SPOKE.

Mrs. A. Mahar spoke of the assistance rendered by the auxiliary to the association. Among others who responded to toasts were Miss Edna Swartz, Mrs. Dolly O'Connor, Mrs. Randy O'Connor, Mrs. W. S. Allen, Mrs. H. L. Nash and Mrs. J. J. Lahn.

The tables were artistically decorated with curtains. A feature of the evening was the musical program tendered by Miss Edna Swartz, who sang, and Miss Dolly O'Connor, who accompanied her.

Mrs. O'Connor gave several piano solos.

'COUNTY CHAIRMAN' WINS PLAUDITS AT LIBERTY

George Ade's Comedy-Drama
Is Presented With Vim at Local Playhouse.

George Ade's great American comedy drama, "The County Chairman," drew two big audiences yesterday to the Liberty Playhouse, where it was presented by the Bishop players for the first time anywhere at popular prices.

Ade long ago established himself as the foremost humorist of the day and in "The County Chairman" he puts himself in the front rank of dramatists. The four acts take place in the village of Antloch, somewhere in the Middle West. The first act shows the exterior of the typical country store, with the usual crowd of loungers. The next act pictures the crowd near the town, where the big political rally takes place.

PRETTY SCENERY.

To this scene every device of up to date stage management has been brought to bear and the picture of fresh young children in their lawn dresses and bearing the coat of arms of the different States, together with the al fresco setting has earned for "The County Chairman" the title of pictorial comedy. Over one hundred persons take part in this act.

The law office of Jim Hackler, the county chairman, is the scene of the second act, and it is there that the big scene of the comedy takes place. The town hall is shown in the last act and this scene, like the rest, is replete with life and color. The returns for the two candidates are coming in and it is a brilliant and interesting closing of a great play.

BENNISSON IN LEAD.

The cast last evening was headed by E. L. Bennison, whose personality ably fits him for the role of Hackler. His acting of the role, in addition, was worthy of any company of stage actors. The comedy honors fall to Henry Bennison, who plays the role of Sassafras Livingston, the irresistible dandy, and to George Cooper and George Friend, who, as the milliner and the windmill man, are funny.

The cast throughout was excellent. Robert Harrison, George Webster, Walter Whipple, Clarence Elmer, Carl Dietz, Joseph Fletcher, Jess Sankay, George Knowlton and Estelle Washfield being others who distinguished themselves.

The wide performance reflects credit on Stage Manager Stalling.

"The County Chairman" will be continued the remainder of the week, with a special matinee tomorrow afternoon, after which comes "The Man on the Box."

MRS. SUSAN J. FILLMORE IS SUMMONED BY DEATH Was Widow of Railroad Superintendent

Mrs. Susan J. Fillmore, wife of the late Luther Fillmore, former superintendent of the South Pacific Coast Railway Company, died at her home in Laramie, Wyoming, on Saturday, September 5. Mrs. Fillmore, who resided in this city for many years, and who was well beloved by a large circle of acquaintances, was 71 years of age. She was a native of New York.

Mrs. Fillmore was the mother of Mrs. M. C. Brown of Laramie, Wyoming; Mrs. C. Coult of Denver, Colo.; Mrs. H. Adams of Oakland, Mrs. C. Tinkham and the late J. M. Fillmore of the San Luis Obispo Railroad Company.

The remains are being brought to this city for interment. They are being accompanied here by her daughter, Mrs. Brown. As soon as the remains arrive at Sixteenth street station they will be taken to Mounting View cemetery and interred in the family plot there. The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. In the event that the train is on time funeral services at the grave will be held at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. Homer J. Vosburg will officiate at the last and rites.

MURDERED FOR MONEY AND HIS BODY THROWN INTO THE SEA

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—In the finding of the body of John N. Sears, washed up on the beach at Redondo, the police now are convinced that they have a murder mystery to solve. The body was found on the body of the man first believed to have been a sailor, but later investigation led the authorities to believe that Sears was killed and his body thrown overboard from a small launch.

Several days ago Sears appeared at Redondo and employed a Swedish boatman, a boatman well known to take him out for trip. The return of the pair was not noted by any one, but some days later

Johnson showed a considerable amount of money and later disappeared, after having announced that he was going back to Sweden. Nothing was thought of this until today, when Sears' body floats against the shore. It is known to have had a large amount of money with him. No money was found in his clothes when the body was discovered. Sears came here from Winfield, Kan., some years ago, and had occupied a room in a Pacific avenue lodging house ever since; but little was ever learned of him except that he had considerable property and money.

THE ALCOHOL in beer is a trifle—only 3½ per cent. The effective ingredients are barley and hops—a food and a tonic. Pure beer is both good and good for you.

In Germany, Holland, Sweden, Denmark and Austria beer is the national beverage. Nearly all people, of all ages, drink it.

And all the world envies their sturdy strength.

Every doctor knows how beer benefits. If you need more strength or vitality he will prescribe it.

But be careful to choose a pure beer, else you get harm with the good. And select a beer well aged to avoid biliousness.

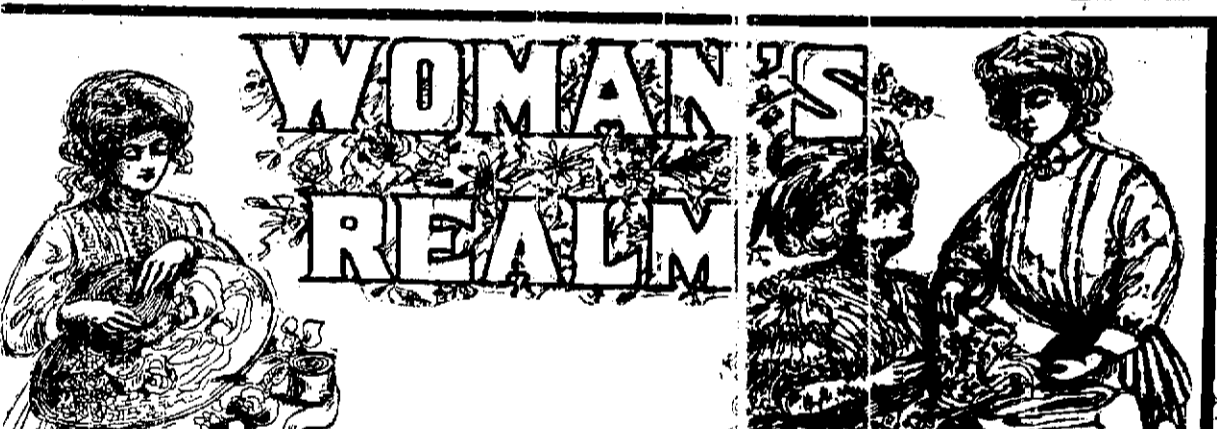

The way to be sure is to order Schlitz. We go to extremes in cleanliness. We even filter the air that cools it. We age it for months. We sterilize every bottle.

Schlitz has no after effects.

Ask for the Brewery Bottling.
Common beer is sometimes substituted for Schlitz.
To avoid being imposed upon, see that the cork or crown is branded Schlitz.

LETTER CARRIERS ENTERTAIN DISTINGUISHED GUESTS AT BOUTIFUL BANQUET TABLE

Congressmen Knowland and Kahn Address the Delegates

The second biennial state convention of the National Association of Letter Carriers came to a close last night with a banquet which was tendered to the delegates and invited guests by the local branch of the order at the Hotel Metropole.

The session of the convention was not long but while it lasted, the delegates addressed themselves to their work with the devotion which has long been characteristic and, as a consequence, accomplished a great deal in a short time and with the least possible expense.

It was natural, therefore, for the delegates to seek some relaxation after the arduous labors of their deliberations. About a hundred members of the conference met at the hotel for a social and gastronomic repast.

INVITED GUESTS.

The occasion was graced by the presence of Congressman J. M. Knowland of the Third Congressional District and Congressman Julius Kahn of San Francisco, both of whom, in their representative capacity as members of the lower house in the national legislature, have rendered signal service in advancing the interests of the National Association of Letter Carriers and, incidentally, the interests of the members of the various local branches of the order throughout the State of California.

There were also present a number of the old and new officers of the California State organization. The evening was one of serene enjoyment and when the exercises came to a close, the visiting delegates declared that the affair was the most agreeable that they had experienced since the establishment of the State organization.

GUEST TABLE.

The chair was occupied by D. J. Hallahan of this city who acted as toastmaster. On his right sat Congressman Joseph R. Knowland, J. C. Daly, retiring president of San Francisco; F. L. Burger, president-elect of the state association; E. H. Osborn, secretary, Los Angeles; E. L. Smith, Los Angeles; Charles F. Noll, San Francisco; on the left were Congressman Julius Kahn; E. G. Miller, president of the local branch, N. A. L. C.; Postmaster Merrill, Berkeley; J. C. Hickok, Berkeley; L. Strasser, J. Morgan and W. A. Martin, Berkeley.

CHAIRMAN HALLAHAN.

After the menu had been discussed, Toastmaster Hallahan called the assembly to order. He expressed himself as greatly pleased to be able to meet in a social manner, the delegates from abroad to the convention which had just come to a successful close. He knew that a great deal of good had been accomplished for the State organization and the local branches by the work of the deliberations. He felt that mere satisfactory results had been obtained through the gathering than had been through any of the preceding assemblies of the order. He hoped that when the delegates returned to their respective branches, the members of those branches would say: "Well done, good and faithful servants." He hoped also, that they would carry away with them pleasant recollections of their brothers in this city.

Mr. Hallahan's speech was greeted with cheers and placed every person present in a goodly spirit to enjoy the other features of the program.

CONGRESSMAN KAHN.

Congressman Kahn was then introduced and was greeted with a salvo of applause.

"It is always," he said, a pleasure for me to be with the letter carriers. I have many friends among them and I am glad to meet them from various other parts of the State on this occasion.

The speaker then said that he had been asked to speak on the question of National Legislation for letter carriers. There is one thing about the national congress," he continued, "it is a representative body. The lawyer is there, the farmer is there and the merchant is there and the wonder is that the legislation is as good as it is. (Laughter.)

CONGRESSIONAL METHODS.

He then described the method of enacting laws in Washington. The bills went through the United States and were handled by experts and, as a consequence when a bill passed it was generally a good bill. Sometimes, he said, certain extraneous circumstances and the effect of passing bills in support of this statement, he told of "Private" Allen's successful fight for an appropriation of $20,000 for a fish hatchery at Cupola, Mississippi. He recalled Allen's humorous speech on Cupola which had caused the House to grant the request. At the next session of the House, another appropriation of $20,000 more was asked to dredge the river for the fish hatchery. This story caused a hearty round of laughter. Concluding, Mr. Kahn said, referring to the battle which was waged for an increase in the salary of letter carriers.

PERKINS AS CHAIRMAN.

He told about the difficulty of getting appropriations at times and instanced an interesting case when certain allowances depended upon the report of the conference committee on naval affairs. He declared, however, that such difficulty would not be any longer experienced now that Senator Perkins was to be chairman of that committee.

FIGHT FOR LETTER CARRIERS.

Congressman Kahn continuing spoke about the fight in Congress for the salary of letter carriers and said:

"That was fought long, late and early.

TEN CHILDREN HOLD REUNION

Not in Thirty Years has There Been a Death Among the Children of G. W. Fountain

In thirty years there has not been a death among the ten children—nine girls and one boy—of G. W. Fountain, an Oakland pioneer, whose house, erected fifty-one years ago, is still standing on Seventeenth street, opposite the post-office.

Fountain, who was of Huguenot stock, came here from Staten Island, N. Y. He passed away some years ago. His son, George W. Fountain, is with the Oakland Fruit and Produce Company, and one of the daughters is the wife of J. P. Lemmon, salesman with Hinman & Tuttle, thirteen street commission merchants. The ten fountain children, there were originally fifteen of them—hold a reunion in Oakland annually, and the last gathering of the sort took place two or two ago at a prominent local restaurant.

Reunion present was due the sincerest thanks of members of the family because it was they who made possible the legislation which had resulted in the betterment of the condition of the letter carriers of the country.

POSTMASTER MERRILL.

Postmaster Merrill of Berkeley thanked Congressman Knowland and Kahn for the assistance they had rendered in improving the conditions of letter carriers. He said that he was making application for the position of letter carriers and the local branch of the order was engaged in the business of staying in it.

Miss Edna Schwartz sang in a sympathetic manner "I Love Thee" and was warmly applauded.

"The Ladies." He said that he had paid considerable attention to the ladies in the cities in which the several conventions had been held and he wanted to say that he had been more strongly attracted to the ladies of Oakland than he had been in any other place, and that he would have a warmer spot in his heart for the ladies of Oakland than he had for those of any other city. To the ladies of this city he extended thanks and he congratulated the brother in Oakland upon the beauty and good nature of their wives, sisters and sweethearts.

This brought the banquet to a sweet and there was an informal reception for twenty minutes, during which the congressmen were introduced to the ladies, who by this time had arrived from the reception which had been tendered them by the ladies' auxiliary of the local branch of letter carriers. And with good wishes all around for everybody, the final partings among the delegates and their friends took place.

THE GUESTS.

Letters of regret over not being able to attend were read from Senator George C. Perkins, Senator Frank Pitt of Los Angeles and Postmaster Risk of San Francisco.

FROM SENATOR PERKINS.

Senator Perkins wrote as follows: San Francisco, Cal., 24 Market street, August 24, 1908.

F. B. Burger, Esq., secretary committee of arrangements, California State Association of Letter Carriers, Oakland, Cal.

Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your valued favor of the 2nd instant, inviting me to attend the banquet to be given in honor of the delegates of the California State Association of Letter Carriers at the Hotel Metropole on the evening of the 7th of September. I beg to return you my hearty thanks and leave this day to join Senator Flint and Congressmen Needham and Englebright for the purpose of viewing and estimating upon certain improvements to be made by the government in the Yosemite Valley Park. As all arrangements have been made for that trip under the direction of the government officers, it would be impossible for me to attend the banquet. I am, however, most pleased to hear of your invitation and doubt not you will have a very pleasant and delightful reunion.

Cordially yours,

GEO. C. PERKINS.

FROM SENATOR FLINT.

Senator Flint wrote:

Los Angeles, Cal., August 26, 1908.

Dear Sir: I acknowledge receipt of your favor of August 21st inviting me to attend the banquet to be given in honor of the delegates of the California State Association of Letter Carriers on September 7.

In reply I regret to have to state that, owing to other engagements made before the receipt of your letter it will be impossible for me to accept your kind invitation.

I can assure you that it would have been a great pleasure to me to attend the banquet and to be able to meet with the letter carriers and to familiarize myself with conditions affecting their welfare. It is gratifying to me that I have in the past been able to assist in the letter carriers' organization and I will always be glad to champion the cause of so worthy a branch of our public service.

Thanking you for your kindness in sending the invitation to me, I remain, yours respectfully,

FRANK P. FLINT.

Mr. F. B. Burger, secretary State Association Letter Carriers, Oakland, Cal. Other regrets were received from Postmaster Risk of San Francisco, Postmaster Smith of this city, who is residing at Paralelo Hotel, Berkeley, Postmaster Robinson of this city, Postmaster Leydecker of Alameda and S. P. Wagner, local superintendent of letter carriers.

TRIBUNE'S SPORTING EDITOR WILL REFEREE BIG FIGHT TOMORROW

EDDIE SMITH,
Who will referee the Guss-Nelson fight tomorrow afternoon.

Edward J. Smith, Sporting Editor of THE TRIBUNE, who will referee the Guss-Nelson fight for the lightweight championship of the world at the Mission Street Arena tomorrow afternoon, has been identified with the sporting world for the last sixteen years.

He began his athletic career as a foot racer, and while he has no record in the foot-racing field, he could always be seen as a fairly speedy runner in the distance over two hundred and twenty yards up to a mile. Smith did not stay very long with the foot-racing game. About the time that he was a member of the San Francisco Athletic Club, he was elected to the position of referee for the Guss-Nelson fight.

As a referee, he has been successful in his career. He knows every branch of sport thoroughly and has been a participant in many sorts of sport.

SUCCESSFUL CAREER.

As a bicyclist, Eddie won his spurs against some of the best men on the Pacific Coast. He was one of the best relay riders around Oakland and had no care to stick to the form of past time he would have made one of the country's greatest cyclists.

First love, some philosophers say, is the one to forever have the strongest hold on the mind, but such was not the case with Eddie Smith, for it was not until he entered the boxing game that he really hit his sporting affinity.

THE PADDLE MITTS.

After shedding his bicycle, Eddie took to the padded mitts and became an amateur boxer, winning several tournaments at the old Alameda Club in Oakland. Ever of your studious turn of mind, Smith was quick to grasp the finer points of the boxing game and he was appointed boxing instructor of the Reliance Athletic Club, a position which he held for several years. Besides acting as boxing instructor of the Reliance Club, Smith acted in a similar capacity for the Y. M. C. A. of Oakland and taught the young men how to box a boxing glove at the Recreation Club in Alameda.

To the sporting world, Smith is best known as a referee and he started in this branch of the sport with the old San Francisco Athletic Club in 1900. During the three years following he refereed several of the Olympic Club's big boxing tournaments.

AS A REFEREE.

His first notable appearance as a referee was in the Alameda Club's fight between the welter-weight champion, Edw. J. Smith, and a challenger. At this time Smith had not turned the corner of years two down times and holds the record for refereeing the youngest man to referee a world championship fight.

Smith made such a satisfactory hit as referee of the Nell-Rube Forna battle for the welter-weight championship, that he was appointed as arbitrator for the return engagement. He also refereed the match between Eddie Hanlon and Morris Rana.

Smith was the third man in the ring when Jimmy Britt met and defeated Edw. J. Smith, the Sugarfoot Kid, and considered by many the greatest light-weight fighter of all time.

WORK SATISFACTORY.

After the Britt-Lavigne fight Smith was appointed referee for the Britt and Frank Britt fight. His work was so satisfactory in this contest that he was handed the job of referee for the great international fight between James White of England and James Fitzsimmons of San Francisco. He followed this by refereeing the fight between George Gardner and Joe Walcott. His last two important engagements were when he appeared as referee for the match between the Nelson-Atlet and Kitchel-Thomas fights.

He has refereed fights in every town in California and for the last three years he has been the official referee of the Reliance Club.

It is noted as a writer for his keen perception of the game he has been the honest and impartial referee in which he deals out the boxing tips to the followers of the fighting game.

$52,000 PACKAGE MISSING WIFE AND HIMSELF

Was Addressed to 'ged Man in Portland and Many Mysterious Phases Develop in Search.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 8.—A package entrusted to the care of the Pacific Express Company, a man by J. H. Albert, president of the Capital National Bank of Portland, and addressed to Joseph Meyers, 1110 1/2 of 10th street, was missing on the night of August 21. The package, which was valued at $52,000, had been established by the man who was supposed to be the owner of the package, Joseph Meyers and his wife, Albert.

As soon as the robbery of the express company, which was put to work for a few days, a clue to the whereabouts of the package have not been successful in the search for the package. The man who was supposed to be the owner of the package, Joseph Meyers and his wife, Albert, were reported to be in Portland.

WILL CATCH THEIF.

"We have detectives at work on the case and will never let up until we catch the thief," no matter how long it takes, we have some idea of where they are and we are not ready to make public.

How the theft was accomplished is not known. The package was taken from the Union Depot office, a small room between 1300 and 1310 1/2 of 10th street, on August 21 and 1:30 a. m. Bloody Scene Meets Eyes of Policeman in Tailor Shop—Husband Jealous of Wife and Sought to End Lives.

While in a jealous rage last night, Salvatore Maltara, alias Angelo Gallano, a tailor of 974 Seventh street, fired four bullets into his wife's body and then turned the weapon on himself, inflicting two wounds which resulted in his death a few moments later. His wife was taken to the Receiving Hospital bleeding profusely from two wounds in the left breast, one in the abdomen and one in the left forearm. Her condition is critical.

A BLOODY SCENE.

Policeman Riley, attracted to the place by the sound of the shots, broke in the front door of the tailor shop and hurried into a room in the rear occupied by the couple as a bedroom. He found Maltara lying on the floor, his clothing red with his life's blood, while the wife, with a look of horror on her face, lay on the floor, streaming from her many wounds, was crouched behind the bedroom door, streaming with fright and pain. She soon lost consciousness and was taken to the hospital for treatment in the police auto patrol.

IN SERIOUS CONDITION.

After restoratives had been administered Mrs. Maltara regained her senses. She admitted that her husband had been extremely jealous of her, but without reason, for years past. She was in a weakened condition that she could not be operated on last night, no attempt being made to locate the bullets which were shot into her body. It was reported at the hospital this morning that the woman showed slight signs of improvement.

DEAD MAN AT MORGUE.

The body of Maltara was taken to the morgue, where an inquest will be held. Neighbors who heard the shots last night hurried out to see. It was an extremely jealous husband and had frequently threatened his wife with harm. Little is known of the couple, they having been married in July. The wounded woman is 44 years of age and the husband 46 years.

SIXTEEN FEARED DEATH WAS NEAR

Party Drifts About in Disabled Boat for Eighteen Hours, Frightened and Helpless.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—After drifting helplessly about in a disabled launch for eighteen hours, suffering from seasickness, and frightened with the belief that they would never regain the shore, the sixteen passengers who were reported yesterday on the launch O. K. are today at their homes in this city and Pasadena.

Upon the arrival of the launch it was learned that the engines of the O. K. had broken down Sunday afternoon in a squall and that the boat had drifted helplessly out to sea. It was not until yesterday morning, Charles Clinch, a machinist of Pasadena, was a member of the party and he worked on the repairs to the engine throughout the eighteen hours.

FORMER CONVICT MAY BE RETURNED

Man Who "Peached" on Fellow-Prisoner, Held to the Superior Court.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.) SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—John Harmon, the convict who was paroled by Governor Gage from Folsom penitentiary because he had turned states evidence in connection with the call break of 1903, for complicity in which three prisoners were later hanged, bids fair to return again to state's prison.

Harmon is charged with burglarizing a saloon at 117 Front street, when arrested he gave the name of George Harmon and said he had never been arrested before. He was released, however, by Detective Sergeant J. D. Gibson, and Judge Weller this morning held him to answer before the superior court.

SAILOR IS ROBBED ON BARBARY COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—John Munson, employed as a sailor on the steamer Annie Smith, which now lies at Oakland, was robbed of $18.60 by two men who were on the Barbary coast last evening. While Munson was drinking in the saloon at 583 Pacific street, he was introduced to two women, one of whom was named Mary. He was ordered three bottles of beer and one of whiskey, the bill coming to $18.60. He claims he placed a $20 gold piece on the table and, receiving no change, summoned Policemen Cameron and Clark. James Pahnke, the bartender, and the Evans woman were immediately arrested and when the latter was searched at the city prison $18 was found in her shoe. Both were charged with petty larceny.

Harriman Is in Town Again and Expresses Himself

E. H. Harriman is in San Francisco, and has something to say to reporters about the development of the country, the times, the tariff, and the political situation. He is now accepted as one worth listening to by a newspaper which but a few weeks ago never referred to him except with anathema. Its period of rabies being over, it is able to regard a man passing through the city with some reference to what he really is, and not as itself conjured him while struggling in political fits.

Which is to say that Harriman is not now regarded by the journal in question as an ogre, lying in wait for the American people, to gather them up and put them in a horrible maw; but as a man having control of vast interests which he appears to thoroughly understand, and which understanding affords insight into other large things, and makes his utterances of unusual interest.

It is difficult to estimate a man according to his merits when he is so conspicuously in the limelight. In times of political frenzies demagogues hold forth with much violence, and human nature is such that it is more easily led along such lines than along those of calm judgment. Envy and all phases of resentment are excited against the man who has attained extraordinary success, especially if his activities bring him in intimate contact with the people. This predisposition is readily inflamed by demagogic representations and appeals, by newspapers run for spite and actuated by malice; but in time equilibrium is restored, and the public finds itself able to render to Caesar the things that are his. We see an acute exemplification of this idea in the case of Patrick Calhoun.

Mr. Harriman is today just what he was three months ago, when the Lincoln-Roosevelt League papers were endowing him with cloven hoofs and demoniacal attributes—of keener perception and insight than most men and with about the average virtues. He has some ideas about things other than railroading. He thinks this would be a poor time to radically mend the tariff. Good times are returning and there would be danger in disturbing commercial conditions just at this juncture. He thinks the political apathy displayed is disquieting; that the indifference is "dangerous to the winner." That is almost an Hibernianism. What is meant is that the candidate who is generally accepted as having the best chance is endangered by the lack of interest.

There are those, perhaps, to hold that any discussion of Harriman that treat him impartially as it would another is of the truckling order. A little while back it seemed to be held in certain quarters that he should never be named except to be damned. But there are very many who disapprove the hysterical manner in which prominent men are pilloried by the reckless press, and who believe that this inflammation of the public is one of the worst evils of the times. It is impossible because of it to come to a true estimate of a man's character and the importance of his relation to the general public.

Mr. Gompers is finding difficulty in delivering the vote of organized labor to whomsoever he chooses. In Kentucky the workingmen in Congressman Sherley's district declined to submit to his dictation. Sheley is a Democrat, but the laboring men of his district have confidence in him. Speaker Cannon has the confidence and affection of the workingmen of his district, and they refuse to be delivered in a body over to some other candidate. They know Uncle Joe, they like him, and they propose to use their own judgment about voting for him. Thoughtful workingmen all over the country realize the danger to popular government involved in electing a Congress practically selected by one man. Allow Mr. Gompers to turn a Republican district over to a Democrat and a Democratic district over to a Republican, and the legislative power will be centered in the hands of one man. There will be an end to party control and party responsibility. One man will boss the whole shooting match.

Improved Condition of the Laboring Man of Today.

Those who have taken account of the recurring Labor Day celebrations have noticed that they have grown in dignity with each succeeding year. The long processions have become more impressive. When it is considered that every man in line is a toiler, a producer, a consideration must be accorded that no other demonstration is entitled to. There may be other parades more spectacular and even of greater length, but there are not likely to be others whose members are universally of a class that is so necessary to the world's existence.

When the Labor Day celebrations began there were those to treat them lightly. It seemed humorous to some that men who work should have a day set apart by statute on which they might parade and show their strength. All efforts of labor for recognition were until recent years derided. Middle-aged men are able to remember when the man who worked with his hands had few rights except the right to work wherever he could find the opportunity and for what wage he could get. He was at an enormous disadvantage, in that he stood alone and was not recognized in the statute books. In forty years he has worked his way up until he is now a well-recognized element in the social structure, to be taken account of in all the calculations. If he is at times too prone to feel his enlarged importance, it may be remembered that for ages he received less than his just recognition, and there is something therefore due him in the balance.

Just as activities are centralized in all other lines, so they are in that of labor. The working man is no longer a unit, to be treated with individually. His interests lie with his fellows, and he must act in concert with them for the general good, sometimes, perhaps, to the detriment of his individual interests.

This solidarity has destroyed the old-time relations of employer and employee, if, indeed, those relations were not destroyed by conditions that were analogous on the other side; for the employer had become corporate instead of personal before employees had so generally organized.

While it may regret the old-time condition where every employer knew all his employees and called them by their first names, it may be said that opportunity for advancement has really not been lessened by men who have to work. The employee who is faithful, industrious, anxious to do well that which he has in hand, and loyal to the interests of his employer, whether individual or corporate, will soon get out of the ranks and go up higher in the scale of workers.

There never was a time when there was such demand for superior men as at the present. Everybody knows of employers who want men, though they may have full forces as to numbers already. What is always wanted is the superior man, the man who can carry the message to Garcia. And it does not require extraordinary ability so much as attention, industry, understanding, concentration, willingness to render full service, loyalty to the interests that are being served, to improve the situation of any working man.

If there is any fault to find with the change that concentration of both labor and capital have brought about as to the relation of employer to employee, it is the lack of interest one takes in the other. There is no concern on either side as to what happens beyond the hours set for work. The employer fixes conditions so as to get the largest amount of work, and the employee renders as much service as he has to. This operates to discourage many from attempting to rise by the exercise of superior characteristics who otherwise might be inclined to do so. The average man waits to be induced to do better, and is not able to see where it is worth while to deserve recognition before he is recognized.

Readers of the Call will be somewhat mystified to learn that John D. Spreckels was the first caller on E. H. Harriman when that gentleman arrived in San Francisco.

REMEDIAL PARTISANSHIP

Park Wells's bay trotter, Queen Thoroughbred Bess, got hit on the truck by the Lightnin' Express. An' they beat Park in court, cause th' railroad is rich. So he's down on th' courts unt' th' railroad an' sich. He voted for Teddy last time, but he said He's afraid Taft ain't no such buster as Ted. So it's Bryan for him!

Jay Gibbon's ain't got any job any more. An' they shut off his credit at Jonkins store. So Jay is riproamin' an' makin' 'em jump. The bankers an' shylocks, from out on th' stump. He's read all th' platforms, behind an' before. An' says that th' Bryan one promises more. So it's Bryan for him!

Bud Hicks hasn't raised any crop that's wuth shucks. Since I can remember he lost all his ducks. From pharisee big an' his meller's all woods. So he ain't goin' to git enough hay for his needs. He lost his bay team on a mortgage last week. An' his very best cow drowned down in th' creek. So it's Bryan for him!

Aud Nunn got hauled out of a section of wheat. That'd go twenty bushels—it never was beat. Till the cussed hull come down an' laid it all flat. An' Aud never thought of insurance for that. An' a lightning bolt fell an' it burned down his crib. An' his wife fell down stairs an' broke four of her ribs. So it's Bryan for him!

An' if we git burs in th' wheat an' th' oats, I tell you Bill Bryan is goin' to git votes. An' a lightnin' bolt fell an' it had deal depends. On how things pan out when th' crop season ends. An' th' yield 's light an' th' price is down low. An' th' boys are aught short an' can't pay what they owe—Wal—it's Bryan, for him!

THE TROUBLE WITH THE PULPIT

EDITOR TRIBUNE: The institution of preaching is one of the most solid assets of the twentieth century. The spiritual not the material controls today. Any man or woman in possession of a new or distinct religious message and gifted to utter it can oppress any hall with crowds.

The main reason why so many preachers quit is that they ought never to have begun. It has often been a wonder to me—I think it has to most—how a man with his magnificent Sunday morning opportunity can give his fellow men the sort of thing he does give them. It has always been so I remember even when the country was convulsed over the impeachment of Andrew Johnson the pulpits were every one silent about it. They had plenty to say about the sins of Samson, nothing about those of Johnson. And so it is today with the Hebrew texts, the Hebrew incidents and the Hebrew shekels and shepherds are threshed out over and over again with the old flail, the show bread is shown instead of a showing up of the adulterers in the modern lot.

Whenever the preacher realizes that he is a man addressing men, that he is not a vice-gerent from God (he never was) but a man of the hour, there is no question of his appreciation and his support. Notice, for instance, how Dr. Ernest E. Baker's audience doubled during this last month of his ministry and that with his press announcements purposely withheld. It was because people knew that at last Dr. Baker had taken off his gloves. Rev. Charles H. Brown, although not an orator, packs his church with an audience that often cannot sit because it is so full. And he talks straight from the shoulder. And William Day Simonds's winning victories because he interprets life instead of tradition.

So far from the pulpit being muzzled all that the people, trust us and all want a voice, and the clearer and braver the better. Of course every church has its faith. It is that which founded it. The Temple Beth Israel of Portland, Oregon, the largest Jewish congregation in the United States were right the other day. Dr. Stephen Wise to the contrary notwithstanding in demanding that his pulpit statements should not traverse Judaism. The people of Fourteenth and Castro will listen to Calverton any more readily than those of Fourteenth and Clay will hear the golden hope of Channing, but doctrine is no longer emphasized and where and all the congregations will listen gladly to a gospel concerned with modern manners and morals.

CHARGED WITH STABBING MAN WITH POCKET-KNIFE

Manuel Reposa, who has been arrested by the police a number of times, was taken into custody last night on a charge of having stabbed A. Monroe of 69 Thirtieth street with a pocket knife during a fight in a West Oakland room. Reposa, who has been accused of being everything from a burglar to a boy pirate, will be tried in the police court as soon as a complaint is filed against him.

Aeronautic Society to Build
Machines for Members
Who Cannot Afford
Them.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The Aeronautic Society, a branch of the Aero Club of America, has secured a year's lease of the Morris Park race track, in which will be conducted experiments with heavier than air flying machines.

A machine shop with tools and facilities for light construction work has been erected and housing is provided for as many machines as may be sent. The plan is to furnish and to members of the society who have the means to pursue their investigation alone.

Wilbur Kimball's "Heliocopt" will be placed in position at the track today and two more machines have been shipped. Alexander Graham Bell is very much in favor of the plan, as

SMALL STATE TAX RATE TO BE FIXED

Will Probably Be Forty Cents,
the Next to the Lowest on Record.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 8.—The State Board of Equalization was supposed to meet today to fix the State tax rate for next year, but because it was a holiday no meeting was held. However, it has been decided that the rate will be 40 cents, of which 2 cents is the State University tax. The rate is apportioned to the several funds as follows: General 19.2, school 16.3, high school 1.7, interest and sinking 3.3, total 39.5. The amounts to be raised by this tax are as follows: General fund $3,333,000, school $3,084,410, high school $320,915, interest and sinking $151,335, total $7,839,760. With one exception this is the lowest rate the State has ever had. During the last year of Governor Gage's administration the rate was 35.2, but there was a deficiency of about $1,000,000. The rate for the high schools, the large increase in the assessment rolls of the counties is responsible for the low rate. The rate last year was 46.5.

GAINED 30 POUNDS

HOW A PENNSYLVANIA WOMAN
BUILT UP HER HEALTH.

Suffered for Years Until She Tried the Tonic Treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and Was Cured.

To women who suffer Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are worth their weight in gold. At special periods a woman needs medicine to regulate her blood, and if she is suffering from Pink Pills are of untold value to women. On such times, for they increase that portion of the blood which absorbs oxygen, the great supporter of organic life. This way they may be said to make new blood. They are good for men, too, but are adapted in a special way to the needs of women and growing girls.

Mrs. C. H. Morland of Scalp Level, Pa., suffered for several years with weakness and her cure by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be read by every suffering woman.

"From my fourteenth year," she says, "I suffered with weakness of mind to girls of my age. I had no strength or ambition to work, was subject to dizzy spells when I would have to lie down, and during these spells would see black specks floating before my eyes. I would wake up every morning as tired as I would have been had I just been through a hard day's work. I had no appetite, food did not digest, and I was like a heavy load on my stomach and I was troubled with constipation. When I tried to work or become overheated my heart would hurt me so that I could hardly breathe. I suffered with sick headaches as often as five days a week. I often had to go back to bed on account of the headaches which were so bad that sometimes I could scarcely see."

"The doctors finally told me that there was no help for me unless I underwent an operation. I was treated by one doctor for seven or eight years, but his medicine did not help me much. I was led to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills by a woman who was at my home one day and after taking them a while I noticed that I was getting stronger and continued with them until cured. I am now never without thirty pounds in weight and am in the best of health."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

MRS. GEORGE A. HUGHES.

Ebell Club enjoyed the first luncheon of the season today at its beautiful home on Harrison street. The affair was quite elaborate and the attendance was much larger than ordinary. Mrs. George Woodbury Bunnell was the presiding hostess and the very interesting program was arranged under the direction of Miss Emmabell Zacher. The reception line included the following members of the club:

Mrs. G. W. Bunnell, Mrs. Edward Booth, Mrs. W. M. Barker, Mrs. Henry Blythe, Mrs. W. O. Badger, Miss Alice Billock, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Miss Mary Alexander, Mrs. Thomas Bennett, Mrs. J. M. Bartlett, Mrs. M. T. Benton, Miss M. S. Benton, Miss Florence Brown, Mrs. A. C. Baumgartner, Mrs. M. J. Bluel, Dr. J. P. Aldrich, Mrs. T. L. Burton, Mrs. R. M. Anthony, Mrs. Harrison Bell, Mrs. M. M. Butler, Mrs. E. A. Ellis, Mrs. A. C. Berland, Mrs. A. B. Bennison, Miss Matilda Brown, Mrs. H. L. Benner, Mrs. L. M. Burchard, Mrs. E. B. Broden, Mrs. A. H. Breed, Mrs. Arthur I. Adams, Mrs. C. P. Baker, Mrs. J. E. Baker, Miss E. F. Baker, Mrs. C. H. Atkins, Mrs. E. H. Benjamin, Mrs. J. P. Ames, Mrs. Irvin Ayers and Mrs. Franklin Banks.

The program which followed the luncheon was as follows:

Violin numbers by Mrs. Franklin Carter, accompanied by Miss Hildie Seldman. 1. Prize Song from "Meisterlanger." Wagner. 2. (a) "Because," from "Jocelyn." Dodard. (b) "The Bee," Schbert.

The banquet hall was very attractive with masses of golden blossoms and ferns. Covers were laid for 235 guests. At the luncheon the guests of the club were Mrs. J. B. Hume, president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. J. W. Orr, vice-president at large of the California Federation, Miss Blanche Morse, corresponding secretary of the California Federation, Mrs. E. L. Baldwin, president of the California Club, Mrs. Alfred P. Beach, first vice-president of the California Club, and Madame E. L. Tojetti, president of the Laurel Hall Club.

DINNER ANNOUNCEMENT

At a beautifully appointed dinner on Saturday evening the engagement was announced of Miss Harriet Norris, daughter of Mrs. Victoria Norris, and George H. Galt, a well known architect. Miss Norris is a very beautiful girl, a member of an old French-Southern family. The room was prettily decorated in pink and the chandeliers and floral garlands. Pretty hand-painted place cards added to the attractiveness of the dining table. The wedding will be celebrated some time before the Christmas holidays. Among those present at the dinner were Mrs. Victoria Norris, Miss Norris, Mrs. Harriet Norris, George Galt, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Tuft, C. H. King Jr., Mrs. H. A. Walker and Miss Florence Mason. Miss Norris was the recipient of some pretty cups and saucers and other engagement gifts. During the dinner the loving cut was passed, each guest drinking to the health and future prosperity of the young couple.

WEDDING DATE.

The wedding of Miss Edna Lehnhardt, the dainty daughter of Emil Lehnhardt, and E. Joseph Cowing is announced to take place at the home of the bride's parents on Wednesday, October 23. The winsome little bride has chosen for her attendants Mrs. Robert Vallee, matron of honor, Miss Frances Williamson, maid of honor, and six intimate friends as her bridesmaids. The bridesmaids who have been invited to be bridesmaids are Miss Anne Englehardt, Miss Mary Englehardt, Miss Antonina Sundell, Miss Clara Franck, Miss Adeline Ehrenburg and Miss Elizabeth Fitzgibbon of San Francisco. Alfred Sundell will support the bridegroom as best man. About seven or eight, including the relatives and most intimate friends will be present at the ceremony, after which an elaborate reception will be held. The young couple will make their future home in Alameda.

COLLEGE GRADUATES ENGAGED.

The engagement is announced of Miss Mary Elizabeth McGlashan and William Wylie McInnere, both of whom are graduates of the University of California. Miss McGlashan is a resident of Truckee, being the daughter of a well known attorney. She was a graduate of the class of 1905. One of her sisters is a city attorney at Lafayette and another, Miss Lona, is a sculptor of ability. Gilmore graduated with the class of 1908, making several records in track meets and winning the junior championship at the Intercollegiate field meet at the Jamestown exposition. He was also a member of the Golden Bear Home Society.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT.

The engagement is announced of Miss Harriet B. Enderlin of this city and Charles Brown of Guerneville. Miss Enderlin was formerly a resident of San Jose, but is at present making her home in this city, where she is a valued employee of the Standard Oil Company. She is making her home at 1716 West street, Oakland, where she is receiving the congratulations of a host of friends. The engagement is the culmination of a friendship formed during the summer vacation at Guerneville. Brown is a young man engaged in business at Guerneville, and is a very popular with all who know him. The wedding will probably occur during the holiday season.

HOME WEDDING.

A pretty home wedding was that uniting Miss Alva Engquist and George A. Hughes. The ceremony was solemnized at the bride's home on Elvia street, Berkeley, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Rev. J. C. Moore officiating. There were no bridal attendants, the ceremony being witnessed by the immediate members of the family only. After a wedding dinner at one of the local cafes Mr. and Mrs. Hughes departed on their honeymoon journey, which will include a trip through the Southern part of the State. They will make their home in Oakland. Mr. Hughes is one of the popular young business men of the city.

GUESTS FROM IOWA.

Mrs. Fred W. Haynes, accompanied by her son, Edward, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Williams of Orchard street. Mrs. Haynes resides in Iowa, and has made several stops on her way to the coast. She came out by the way of Arizona and Mexico, where she visited points of interest. She has also made quite an extended visit in Los Angeles and the surrounding resorts. Mrs. Haynes' husband is a banker in Iowa, where he has large business enterprises. It is hoped that Mrs. Haynes will find Oakland of enough interest to engage in some of its enterprises.

THIMBLE BEE.

Miss Hazel Palmerette will be a hostess on Friday afternoon, entertaining in honor of Miss Hilda McElrath, who will probably be one of the fall brides. The engagement of Miss McElrath and Charles Wheeler was announced some months ago, since when the young bride-elect has been the motif for many pleasant affairs. The McElrath family is one of the oldest and best known on this side of the bay. Miss McElrath is one of the very popular girls in the younger set.

TO BE OCTOBER BRIDE.

An engagement that is of interest to a large circle of friends is that of Miss Marion Spoddy and ex-Commander Residence Chester Knight. Both are residents of Alameda where they are well and favorably known. Miss Spoddy is a clever pianist and is also unusually skillful with the oars.

The wedding will be solemnized at the Spoddy home in Alameda about the middle of October.

VISITING RELATIVES.

Mrs. Edward Adams of Jackson street has as her guest her cousin, Mrs. Edwin Barbour of Portland, Mrs.

Barbour, who was Miss Ella Sterrett before her marriage, is a niece of Mrs. George Wheaton. She is one of well known in Oakland and will undoubtedly be the motif for some pleasant occasions during her visit, which is to extend over several weeks.

CLUB PRESIDENT RETURNS.

Miss Eva Powell, president of Ebell Club, who has been to Mendocino, Pa., as a delegate to the national convention of Kappa Kappa, returned to Oakland yesterday. Miss Powell presided today at the first luncheon given by Ebell this season.

INTERESTING TRIP.

Louis Selby of the Arm of Selby Bros. is enjoying a extended trip on the continent. At last accounts he was at Ostend, the well known watering place in Belgium. He has made a visit to Paris and has also witnessed the wonders of the Alps.

DINNER HOSTESS.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunc Campbell of San Francisco and Mr. George Mauds of Wichita, Kan., were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Woods of Berkeley on Thursday evening. Mrs. Mauds is a sister of Mr. Campbell and is making a visit to the coast.

AT SUMMER HOME.

Mrs. A. A. Long is enjoying a delightful vacation at her summer home at Boulder Creek. She went down for the holidays and has taken a party of congenial friends as her guests.

AT TAHOE TAVERN.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stolp are enjoying an outing at Lake Tahoe, making their headquarters at the picturesque Tavern. They expect to be gone a week or ten days.

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shafran have moved into their new home at 602 Walsworth avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. August Hensberg have returned from an enjoyable sojourn at Lake Tahoe, spending two weeks at the Tavern.

Strict Rules Are Made for Underclassmen at Reno University.

RENO, Vm., Sept. 8.—The underclassmen of the Mackay School of Mines will not be permitted to accompany co-eds to campus affairs unless such functions are purely social, according to a gentlemen's rule, which were posted by the graduate students yesterday. The freshmen and sophomores will be barred from the dormitory dining halls unless they go without feminine companions, and even a short chat on the floor of the gymnasium or in the lobbies of the recreation buildings will be prohibited.

The wide publicity given in the dedication of the Mackay School of Mines has increased the number of students this year, eclipsing all previous records. Dr. Stubbs hopes that the 1000 mark will be reached. Advanced students at the university will be added next term when the faculty will use newspaper space on the Coast and in the East to tell of the advantages of the institution.

LIMA, Peru, Sept. 8.—Miss Annie S. Peck of Providence, R. I., the mountain climber, has succeeded in reaching the summit of Mount Huascarán. She estimates that the height of the summit is 26,000 feet. A Swiss companion of Miss Peck had a foot and both hands frozen, which caused gauging to set in, and an Indian guide was miraculously saved from death by falling 1000 feet down a ravine.

This last attempt of Miss Peck to scale the Huascarán was begun August 25. Two weeks previously she climbed the mountain to a height of 25,000 feet, but was compelled to return to the lowlands on account of the illness of one of her guides.

MORAN AND ATTELL FIGHT A LISTLESS DRAW

PREMIER FEATHERWEIGHTS OF AMERICA AND GREAT BRITAIN BATTLE TO A CLOSE DRAW

MORAN AND ATTELL UNABLE TO SETTLE CHAMPIONSHIP

Referee Jack Welsh Refuses to Draw a Fine Line and Men Are in Same Place They Were Left New Year's Day.

BY EDDIE SMITH.

AFTER twenty-three rounds of scrapping in which one round was such a close repetition of the preceding one that the fans of pugilism who had gathered at the ring-side lost interest in the contest. Referee Jack Welsh called the second championship meeting between Owen Moran and Abe Attell a draw.

The decision as rendered by Welsh is consistent with his previous ring rulings, in that he never draws a close line on fighters and also by virtue of the fact that he practically told the contestants that if the affair was a close one that he would refuse to draw a fine line.

In justification of this feeling, Welsh said prior to the fight of yesterday and after the battle that he would have been doing an injustice to either men to have taken a national championship away from him on a hair-line decision.

In justice to Attell it must be admitted however, even though he did not get the decision, he proved beyond any shadow of a doubt that he was the possessor of a better head, has more cleverness and better than that is the master of the Britisher at any sort of fighting.

Moran is the possessor of an iron heart, however, and to that he can be thankful for the verdict of the contest. Attell announced that he would fight the Britisher cleverly and would be contented with the decision and at the beginning of the twenty-third round he really thought he had won the verdict, the blood besmear face of the Englishman evidently causing him to believe he had done more execution than he had.

When he rested in his corner between the twenty-second and twenty-third rounds he had his seconds cuttully put and came back with the idea that when he stepped to the center of the ring he would look as fresh and lean as he did when he started. While Moran looked as tired and red with the red ripples of blood trickling down his face from a cut over his eye and from his battered nose.

As the men shook hands, Abe said: "No draw today Owen." To this the Britisher replied: "No draw today Owen." When the crowd had been fought and Referee Welsh tried to roll the hands of both men above his head as a sign of a draw Attell refused at first to give him his hand and was very dissatisfied with the verdict about to be rendered.

Holds Head Erect. Moran with his head straight in the air at all times ducked seldom depending almost entirely on his blocking. At no time did he try to avoid the force of the punches of the Hebrew by allowing his head to travel with them and consequently he suffered the greater amount of punishment.

After a few days prior to the contest, Attell announced that he would fight the Britisher cleverly and would be contented with the decision and at the beginning of the twenty-third round he really thought he had won the verdict, the blood besmear face of the Englishman evidently causing him to believe he had done more execution than he had.

When he rested in his corner between the twenty-second and twenty-third rounds he had his seconds cuttully put and came back with the idea that when he stepped to the center of the ring he would look as fresh and lean as he did when he started. While Moran looked as tired and red with the red ripples of blood trickling down his face from a cut over his eye and from his battered nose.

As the men shook hands, Abe said: "No draw today Owen." To this the Britisher replied: "No draw today Owen." When the crowd had been fought and Referee Welsh tried to roll the hands of both men above his head as a sign of a draw Attell refused at first to give him his hand and was very dissatisfied with the verdict about to be rendered.

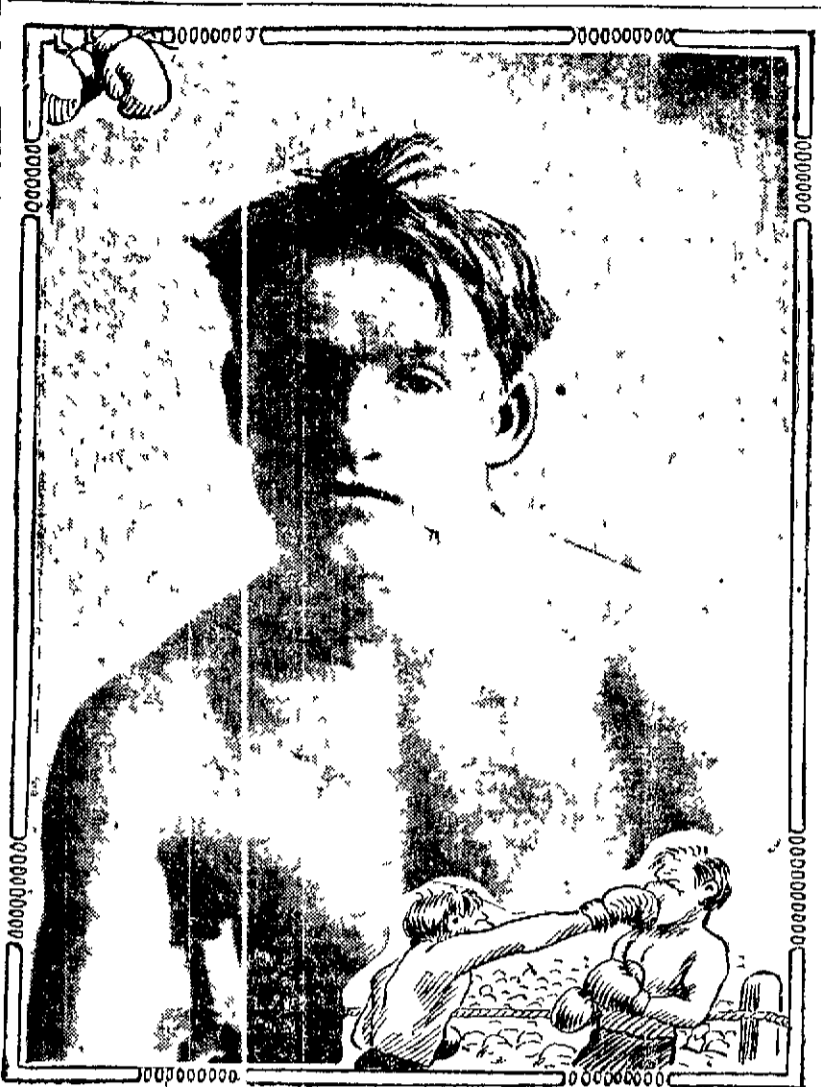

Claims Injured Hand. As soon as it was given he ran about the ring asking those who sat close to the ring their opinion and proclaiming he had won by a big margin. Moran announced that he had broken his hand, but little or no stock can be taken in this statement for he hit with that fighting member too often to have injured it very badly.

Some of those at the ring-side were of the opinion that Attell tried to cut the line in order to get the Englishman again in another contest but to this it would seem there is little foundation for belief as Attell fought as hard as he ever does and followed his usual strategy. When the men entered the ring Attell showed perfect condition while Moran seemed to have drawn a trifle line during the last twelve hours prior to the fight. The referee acted as chief advisor to the Englishman and was assisted by Manager Charles Harvey and Tom Deakin. In Abe's corner the three other brothers, who followed him, did the same, but their efforts make little light as he should have done were once and at all times he fought his own battle.

Rounds All Alike. A description of the rounds of the contest would be tiresome to read—one round a repetition of the other and to say the least monotonous. Attell proved disappointment for the reason that he would not take a chance and Moran proved anything but the devil he gave evidence of being at his training camp.

On time, did the crowd have a chance to shout out its excitement through the fact that either man was to any degree groggy or near the brink of exhaustion and by a knockout and bearing the few flashes that Attell did make, at which times it must be admitted he made a show of the Britisher, the contest lasted anything that would cause the regular patron of the game to become bored.

The gate receipts for the contest was a slight disappointment to the management for they felt that of the last contest between the pair when they fought New Year's day.

CROWD WATCHING FIGHT BULLETINS IN FRONT OF THE TRIBUNE OFFICE ON BROADWAY YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

EASTERN CRACKS WIN THE FIRST GAMES AT DEL MONTE

DEL MONTE Sept. 8.—Quite a large and enthusiastic crowd gathered here yesterday to see the tennis games. The best match of the day was that between Charles Foley and Clarence Griffith against the McSwain brothers. The latter won the first set, but the former won the second and third sets, and the match was a very close one.

Men's doubles, preliminary round—McSwain brothers vs. E. P. Finner and L. H. Linton in straight sets. This match was so one-sided that the easterners did not have to extend themselves, but the latter had a very creditable showing, forcing the easterners to a three set match.

A. E. Bell and L. P. Freeman succeeded in winning their match with E. P. Finner and L. H. Linton, but not until two hard-fought sets had been played. The score in each being 7-5.

In the women's event, but one match was played. Mrs. Niemeyer and Miss Kearns defeated Mrs. Martin and Miss Kearns in straight sets.

The men's doubles will be completed in the semi-finals tomorrow. The best match of the day was that between Charles Foley and Clarence Griffith against the McSwain brothers.

First round lower half—A. E. Bell and L. P. Freeman vs. E. P. Finner and L. H. Linton. The match was a very close one, and the gate receipts were very high.

Moran Says His Hand Was Hurt Early in the Fight.

(By OWEN MORAN)

"I thought that I was entitled to the decision because I forced all the fighting. But there is no use complaining. I would have known him out but I broke my hand in the second round. It was my right hand and I could not use it much after that. If I had both my hands there would have been no doubt about the result. I am ready to fight him again any time. He didn't hurt me at any time. I will knock him out if we ever meet again. The cut I received over the eye was not from a clean punch, he bumped me with his head."

Attell Put Up the Claim That He Won the Battle.

(By ABE ATTELL)

"I thought I had that fight won. Moran's head got a punch and he didn't hurt me. After that I could see that he was trying to lose on a foul. He fought me with his head and once he hit me low. He was always fighting about the waist, and I might have gone after him more, but I didn't. I was afraid of his head. Sure I will fight him again, but I will not go into that ring with him. I had him at my feet and he didn't make me shift around the ring. I think that Welsh should have given me the decision."

GANS AT HIS WORST.

That was the worst that Gans has ever looked or if he looked today as he did then the people would cry out the disapproval of the third meeting between the premier light weights. Whether or not Gans can stand the hard strain of a long battle can only be told by the result of tomorrow's contest for to all appearances Gans is in better condition than he was for either the Britt contest or the Lohr affair. FRANTIC WOMEN

Organic disturbances of the female system act like a firebrand on the nerves of women, often driving them fairly frantic.

A nervous, irritable woman is a source of misery, not only to herself, but to all those who come under her influence. That such conditions can be entirely overcome by taking is proven by the following letters.

Mrs. Mary Wood, of Christiana, Tenn., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I had the worst form of female troubles and my nerves were all torn to pieces; sometimes I suffered so much that it seemed as though I could not live. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I feel like a different person. Your medicine is worth its weight in gold, and I cannot say enough for your advice."

Mrs. Wallace Wilson, Thompsonville, Conn., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was all run down, nervous, and could not rest nights. Doctors failed to help me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to perfect health."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulcerations, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, etc. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Captain Deposed From Battleship Missouri Dies From Broken Heart.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Captain G. A. Merriam, United States navy, who died at Portsmouth, N. H., last Wednesday of "embolism of the heart after an operation for appendicitis," according to the records of the Navy Department, really died of a broken heart, according to his widow, who resides in Washington.

Mrs. Merriam says her husband loved because he was relieved of the command of the battleship Missouri on the alleged ground that his "discipline was a menace to the navy." The transfer was made on the request of Admiral Sperry, but the navy officials say Captain Merriam acquiesced in it, and that a letter in his file in the department said that the captain was pleased with his new assignment.

The transfer was made on the request of Admiral Sperry, but the navy officials say Captain Merriam acquiesced in it, and that a letter in his file in the department said that the captain was pleased with his new assignment.

Mrs. Merriam says her husband loved because he was relieved of the command of the battleship Missouri on the alleged ground that his "discipline was a menace to the navy." The transfer was made on the request of Admiral Sperry, but the navy officials say Captain Merriam acquiesced in it, and that a letter in his file in the department said that the captain was pleased with his new assignment.

William R. Hearst, in Speech to Iowa Workingmen, Bares Bryan's Record as a Foe of Union Labor

DAVENPORT (Iowa), September 7.—William Randolph Hearst, National Chairman of the Independence party, addressed a large audience of Iowa workingmen here to-day. Mr. Hearst said:

My Friends:
I intend to talk politics, because we are all thinking politics and talking politics at this time, but I do not intend to make a political speech or a partisan speech.

I do not intend to speak in behalf of the Republican party or in behalf of the Democratic party or in behalf of the Independence party. I intend merely to have a friendly talk among friends upon matters that interest us as American citizens and as workingmen.

I claim to be a worker. I suppose I might have been an idler if I had wanted to be one, but I have always had a hearty contempt for dukes and drones and a deep, sincere admiration for the men who do the useful work of the world.

I have always desired to be enrolled among the ranks of the worker, and I am truly pleased and truly proud when I am invited every Labor Day by union men to appear before them and speak on matters of interest and importance to them.

I have always been exceedingly friendly to labor unions but I wish to make it quite clear that they have been just as friendly to me as I have been to them.

I am not one of those benefactors of labor who stand somewhere on a pinnacle away up in the clouds and hand down boons and blessings to laboring men.

I have been associated in business with union men on exactly equal terms. I have come to know union men and respect them as my business associates, and I only hope that I have been as valuable to them in their affairs as they have been to me in mine.

I regard business as a partnership arrangement between employer and employee. The business object of this partnership is the creation of wealth, and the moral obligation of this partnership is a just division of wealth.

I believe that the equitable distribution of wealth which labor unions tend to secure is of benefit not only to workingmen but to the whole community.

I therefore endorse labor unions, and I believe that laboring men should be active in business to protect and promote their unions and that they should be active in politics to preserve their unions. When I first urged labor unions to go into politics Mr. Gompers disagreed with me in his Federationist and declared that labor unions ought to keep out of politics.

WHY MR. GOMPERS' POLITICAL METHODS ARE WRONG.

I was surprised, therefore, when one day in Washington I was invited to appear before the officers of the Federation of Labor and give my reasons for urging labor unions to go into politics. I was more surprised when I saw in the papers the next morning that the officers of the Federation of Labor had decided that labor unions ought to go into politics, and I was most surprised of all when Mr. Gompers came out in the Federationist and said: "Of course labor unions ought to go into politics. Why not?"

Now, Mr. Gompers agrees with me that labor unions ought to go into politics, but I do not agree with him on the way labor unions ought to go into politics, and inasmuch as he was wrong and I was right before, maybe he is wrong now and I am right now.

Mr. Gompers thinks that the right way is for all labor unions to lay their votes in his basket like a lot of good, dutiful political hens, and for him then to take the basket to market and peddle the contents to the Republican party or the Democratic party.

The objections to this plan are many and they are convincing and conclusive.

First—You cannot afford to repose so much power with any man or any set of men. There is a distinct danger that the contents of the basket would be peddled more for the benefit of the owner of the basket than for the advantage of the honest, trustful layers of the votes. There would be competition for the contents of the basket of a kind that would debauch and destroy your organization without benefiting the humbler members.

Second—You would never be harmonious in your ideas of how the votes should be delivered. You would be divided by differences of opinion. You would be disrupted by dissension.

Third—You would get little or no result from such a system, for the men elected would be primarily Democrats or Republicans. They would be your friends before election, but would forget all about you after the election.

Fourth—You have tried out the old parties time and time again and have found them wanting every time, and it would be absurd for you to waste your time and your opportunity persisting in a policy that has continually proved a failure.

FACE ONLY TRIACHERY FROM THE DEMOCRATS.

In 1892 you workingmen had become disgusted with the insincerity and indifference of the Republican party and you turned your votes to the Democratic party, and by so doing you, more than any other force in the United States, placed that party in power.

In 1894, only two years later, the Democratic administration sent Federal troops into the sovereign State of Illinois, against the protest of its Governor, to terrorize and subdue workingmen battling for their rights. Then you turned in indignation from the false and treacherous Democratic party, and you did not start a new party. You put the old, discarded Republican party back into power. The Republican party has been just as insincere and indifferent as it was before, and of course you are just as disgusted and discouraged as you were before.

Now what are you going to do? Are you going to put back into power the old false and treacherous Democratic party to deceive you and betray you once more, or are you going to try to get a square deal through a new deal?

Suppose I had had a manager who had made a failure of my Chicago newspaper and I had put in a second manager who had also made a failure of it. What would you think of me if I had then put back the first manager and let him make a failure again, and if I now purposed to put back the second manager and let him make still another failure? You would say that I ought to get a new manager or else conduct the business myself; and I say to you that you ought to support a new party or start a new party yourselves.

If anyone tells you that the Democratic party is a new party, with a new attitude toward workingmen, I stand ready to prove that it is the same old Democratic party with the same old deceitful attitude toward workingmen.

When, years ago, workingmen were in Washington arguing for what they honestly believed to be for the best interest of themselves and their families and their fellow-citizens generally, and Mr. Bryan called them "public beggars," he did not show a spirit in sympathy with the American laborer or in harmony with American ideas.

GIVES PROOF OF MR. BRYAN'S INSINCERITY.

And when Mr. Bryan, the other day, appointed as treasurer of the Democratic campaign this man Haskell, a member of a secret Citizens' Alliance, hostile to labor in a mean and cowardly way, he did not show in that either a spirit in sympathy with American labor or in accordance with American fair play.

My friends, if I were more of a politician I would stand here and declaim and endeavor to influence your minds against these and other performances of Mr. Bryan, which have alienated me from his support and which truly seem to me to be un-American and unworthy of a man or a statesman, but I am not here as a politician. I am not here to attempt to deliver your votes, as some of your leaders try to do, or attempt to influence your minds, as some politicians try to do.

I am here to present plain facts in a plain way. I am here as one of you to give you information that I have and that you OUGHT to have. I will not trust myself to relate the facts. I will read a plain presentation of them from the records and from affidavits.

On September 18, 1893, the manufacturers of window glass and the window glass workers appeared before the committee of ways and means of the Democratic Congress of that year. They came to protest against a heavy cut in the tariff on window glass. Mr. Bryan was a member of the ways and means committee.

Mr. John P. Eberhardt, president of the Window Glass Workers' Association of the United States, presented the case of the window glass workers before the committee. Mr. Eberhardt said: "We want better wages than they get abroad; we are not satisfied to have our wives and sisters wheel coal and sand in factories, we desire to have our children attend school instead of working before they have even the elements of an education, as is the case of our competitors in the American market who work abroad. We are not satisfied to live in houses with only bare cobblestones or flagged floors, as many of them have to do."

"To talk of American workmen working and living as they do in foreign countries is un-American. Can we hope to maintain a free government for the people and by the people if we destroy the spirit of individual freedom and independence in that people?"

BRYAN SHOWED UNFRIENDLINESS TO LABOR.

In the committee of ways and means Mr. Bryan asked Mr. Eberhardt the following questions: "I want to ask you whether the fact that workingmen live better and have shorter hours make their labor any more efficient during the time they work?"

"Yes, sir," answered the glassmaker. "I believe it is possible."

"In Belgium," said Mr. Bryan, "they work on Sundays as well as other days and have no vacation in the summer. Does that tell upon their constitutions or render their work less valuable to their employer?"

Mr. Eberhardt explained about the surplus of workingmen in Belgium. He said that the employer did not care so much about their health, as there were plenty more to fill any gaps.

After the committee meeting the following incident occurred, which I repeat from a sworn affidavit:

"To whom it may concern: This is to certify that I, James Campbell, residing at No. 608 Mellon street, in the city of Pittsburgh, county of Allegheny and State of Pennsylvania, declare that the following statement is true. I was formerly president of the International Association of Window Glass Workers, embracing the United States, Belgium and France, also president for three years of the Window Glass Workers' Association of the United States and was Chief State Factory Inspector of the State of Pennsylvania for two terms of four years each."

"I also declare that in 1893, while the Wilson bill was being considered by Congress, I was in Washington, D. C., with a committee of the Window Glass Workers' Association in the interests of the window glass workers of the United States. Our committee was present at a hearing accorded to the window glass manufacturers of the United States by the ways and means committee. During the discussion that followed Mr. William Jennings Bryan, who was a member of the ways and means committee, referred to the manufacturers as 'robbers'."

"I then said to Mr. Bryan, 'If you consider the manufacturers robbers, what do you think of the workers?' To which Mr. Bryan replied: 'They are a lot of public beggars.'"

"In reply I said: 'I do not condone it begging to try to maintain the American standard of wages.'"

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 7th day of July, 1908. JAMES CAMPBELL."

"Sworn and subscribed to before me this 7th day of July, 1908. JOHN B. DREW, Notary Public."

ANOTHER AFFIDAVIT SHOWS HIS ATTITUDE.

The following is contained in an affidavit, which is on file at Anderson, Ind.:

Anderson, Ind., September 25, 1908.

"Mr. Charles Flood, Mountville, W. Va.—Dear sir: Yours of the 23d inst. received. You ask me to take oath to what I stated in answer to your former letter, in substance, I said myself and others were sent to Washington in 1893 for the purpose of making a statement before the ways and means committee in reference to the tariff on window glass."

"Some of the men had conversation with Mr. Bryan after the full committee had adjourned. I was not present all the time they were talking tariff, but I was present and did hear Mr. Bryan say: 'You are public beggars.'"

"The answer was made: 'We do not look upon it as begging to ask for protection against the importation of foreign products.'"

"He then said: 'Nevertheless you are public beggars.'"

"He left us with this. Yours truly, 'CHARLES BRYAN.'"

So much for the window glass workers incident. I have no comment to make upon it except this: If I thought that the manufacturers of the United States were public robbers and the workingmen of the United States public beggars I would not want to be President of that kind of people; and I do not think that any man who calls the manufacturers of the United States robbers and the workingmen of the United States beggars ought to be President of this great American people.

Now for the Haskell matter.

Everybody knows that just as Mr. Roosevelt ran the Republican convention to suit himself so Mr. Bryan ran the Democratic convention to suit himself.

Everybody knows that Mr. Bryan made Mr. Haskell chairman of the committee of resolutions and platform.

Everybody does not know, however, that Mr. Haskell is a member of a petty secret citizens' alliance whose one object is to crush labor unions and reduce wages.

RESOLUTION REVEALS HASKELL'S CONNECTIONS.

When everybody does know this, they will understand why the Democratic platform, which Mr. Haskell supervised, contains a labor plank meant to defraud laboring men and deceive the citizens generally. I will make no argument on this point either, but I will simply rest our case, the labor case, on this resolution introduced by Mr. Haskell before a secret meeting of the secret alliance of Muskogee:

"To the business men's alliance:

"Whereas, it is apparent that there is in our city with the labor people a movement which, if it is not checked at once, will invade our rights as citizens and taxpayers to conduct our own business; and

"Whereas, the price of labor is being constantly advanced to a prohibitive standard by these labor unions, which threaten the growth of our city; and,

"Whereas, the laborers, through their unions and backed by a central trades union, are becoming intolerable; and

"Whereas, this status of affairs has recently been stimulated by a recent labor convention in our city; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we, the citizens of Muskogee, representing the best interests of our city, do hereby bind ourselves together and pledge ourselves, severally, that we, and each of us, as citizens of Muskogee, will do all in our power to discriminate against any and all labor union men who may hold a union or trades assembly card, not for the purpose of injuring these men personally, but to check the contemptible fanaticism of trade unionism; and be it further

"Resolved, that we take steps to induce good, sober and industrious mechanics to come to our city, union or non-union, who will pledge themselves not to join the union or trades assembly of this city, and that we pledge to such men a preference at all time; also, that we invite such men to join our alliance. (Signed) 'C. N. HASKELL.'"

In case Mr. Haskell should claim that he did not introduce any such resolution here is a photographic facsimile of it, and in case he should say there was no such secret citizens' alliance, here are the minutes of its meetings. We learn from these minutes that the members of this alliance agreed on their honor, "To keep secret forever all that may be said or done by the alliance and the identity of its members."

AN OFFICER OF THE CITIZENS' ASSOCIATION.

We learn, too, that Mr. Haskell was an officer of the alliance, that he was chosen temporary chairman of the first meeting and called the second meeting to order.

Here are the minutes of the first meeting:

"In pursuance of a call circulated and generally signed by the business men of Muskogee, for a meeting to consider the advisability of organizing the business interests of the city for protection against all forms of combinations inimical to the advancement of the city and the free conduct of each enterprise by its proprietor, a number of representative business men met at the commercial club rooms Friday night, April 26th.

"On motion of P. E. Hopkins, C. N. Haskell was elected temporary chairman and H. E. Greer temporary secretary.

"The advisability of organizing a citizens' alliance occupied the attention of the meeting by a free exchange of opinions of those present. R. E. Arnum, secretary of the Citizens' Alliance of Houston, Tex., was present, and, upon invitation, explained the objects of the citizens' alliance as it existed in other large cities and the plans of its organization.

"On motion of R. L. Owen it was decided to organize an alliance along the lines of other organizations throughout the country. The chairman was authorized to appoint a committee of five on constitution and by-laws. The following gentlemen were appointed: R. L. Owen, J. C. Welch, C. W. Turner, P. M. Ford and Major Patterson. The committee retired it once for the consideration of its work. The report of the committee was adopted as read, except in so far as it related to application for membership. That clause was amended by Mr. Hopkins to read as follows:

"I hereby make application for membership in the citizens' alliance of Muskogee, I. T., and affirm that I have read and understand the declaration of principles, constitution and by-laws of said alliance, and that I am not a member of any organization whose principles and purposes are opposed to objects and purposes of said alliance."

This amendment was adopted as part of the constitution. The following form of petition for membership was adopted:

ALL MEMBERS WERE SWORN TO SECRECY.

"Petition for membership:

"I hereby make application for membership in citizens' alliance of Muskogee, I. T., and affirm that I have read and understand the declaration of principles, constitution and by-laws of said alliance, and that I am not a member of any organization whose principles and purposes are opposed to objects and purposes of said alliance."

"I am over eighteen years of age and occupation—

I agree to abide by the constitution and by-laws of this or any citizens' alliance of which I may hereafter become connected, and agree on my honor, to keep secret forever all that may be said or done by the alliance or the identity of its members. For $1."

I will only say that I have no objections to employers' organizations that are open and honest. This is an age of organization and we must all admit that workingmen have a right to organize and employers have a right to organize.

I have, however, an objection to the so-called alliances that meet in secret in a dark room under the bed.

I believe that men who want their meetings secret and their acts secret and their membership secret have a wholesome fear of public opinion, or of the police.

Now, my friends, Mr. Bryan, that unselfish friend of the workingman, who lately made Mr. Haskell, that other unquestioned friend of the workingman, national treasurer of the Democratic Congressional fund, Mr. Gompers urge you to send in your dollars to the fund.

And am not a leader of labor, I am only a humble follower in the ranks. Don't let me prevent you from sending your dollars if you want. I never asked the workingmen to do anything that they didn't want to do, or not to do anything that they did want to do.

Just remember, however, that some part of the fund you are asked to contribute with your hard-earned dollars may be used "to check" what Mr. Haskell calls, in so friendly a way, "this contemptible fanaticism of trades unionism."

Longworth's Fine Stable Burned

CINCINNATI, Sept. 8.—Congressman Nicholas Longworth's two-story brick stable at his Grandin Road home was completely destroyed by fire today, causing a loss estimated at $30,000. With the stable were burned five carriages, but the horses and servants, who slept in the stable, got out safely.

Mr. and Mrs. Longworth had returned from a party when the fire was discovered.

LITTLE BROWN TEDDY BEARS MADE OF ICE CREAM

Lehnhardt, the Candy Man, Arranges a Unique and Appropriate Frozen Dessert for Admission Day Dinners—Delivered in Compartments Surrounded By Ice—Keep for Hours

Well, Lehnhardt has certainly hit upon a clever idea for Admission Day. He has found a way to make the little brown teddy bears of ice cream you ever saw, and bear know are as essential to Admission Day as fireworks are to the 4th of July.

And to think that they're made of ice cream, are they? One lady on their little haunches and looking so bright and funny as can be, each in his folded arms a little American flag.

"What, they're not going to be of ice cream, are they?" one lady the morning when Mr. Lehnhardt and THE TRIBUNE man were discussing the matter. "Yes, indeed, they're made of ice cream," Mr. Lehnhardt replied, "and furthermore, we've covered a way to pack them so they'll keep for hours and so that when you get your Admission Day dinner they'll sit up and take their parts and hold their flags as good as the teddy bears are expected to do."

These bears are really very clever and the idea is a new one. They're made of the finest ice cream from the very heavy cream so that they keep. They're cream is put in a mold and molded into the shape of the little bear described. The bear is then taken out of the mold and sprinkled with powdered chocolate. They're then each put into a separate compartment, surrounded by a piece of ice, and allowed to freeze hard.

they are waiting to be delivered and served. A flag goes with each teddy and every teddy has a smile—not a frozen smile, but a sweet smile.

"We have been making various forms for some time," said Mr. Lehnhardt, "but these brown teddy bears are the cleverest idea of them all, and I intend to continue selling them after Admission Day. I have made a price of six for $1.00 for tomorrow or $2.00 a dozen, and after tomorrow will charge $2.50 a dozen or six for $1.25. They're really worth more as they're hard to make and handle, but I assure such novelties are a good advertisement and make a business of getting them up."

When you see them you'll wonder how they can be made so cheaply. Each little bear is perfect and being made of the finest ice cream covered with nothing but powdered chocolate make a very delicious, healthy dessert.

Of course, they'll cause an immense amount of merriment at any dinner at which they're served, and when you consider that six of them only cost a dollar (if ordered tonight for tomorrow's delivery, they're really very inexpensive).

As the number made will be limited and as every clever and original housekeeper will be interested in serving them, Mr. Lehnhardt desires that all orders be placed in tonight if possible. Special wagons have been arranged for to insure prompt delivery. Telephone Oakland 497 or Home phone A-349.

Teachers' Glasses

The school teacher uses her eyes for many purposes. She must watch her young charges, even to the far end of the classroom and make out their work upon the blackboard. She must read the print of the text-book with its small annotations and decipher the poorly-written work of her scholars. Her eyes must be everywhere at once. She must look at far points and near ones, at large drawings and small print.

Some teachers use two pairs of glasses and some wear those that must be put on or taken off whenever they raise or lower their eyes. To them our Kryptok bifocal is a blessing, for one pair of these handsome lenses will let teachers perform all visual operations without changing glasses at all.
